Transport for London (TfL) Supplier Skills Programme

Group Horizon offer a suite of courses for jobseekers at their London centre, based within Lewisham College. Programmes are tailored to offer learners hands on practical experience and a qualification immediately usable and recognised in the workplace.

“Through our Transport for London Supplier Skills programme, we have led the way in influencing the sector, rather than simply putting terms into contracts and waiting for suppliers to succeed or fail on their own, TfL established a Supplier Skills Team to lead on delivery by creating partnerships between our commercial teams, suppliers, and the network of over 100 charities and employability groups which we have developed. This underlines our commitment to addressing the skills shortage and supporting disadvantaged Londoners and is the reason why we have become leaders in this area. Within minutes of our first meeting with a representative from Group Horizon we were able to secure an apprenticeship position, for one of their candidates, with one of our key suppliers. Given our 100% success rate, the expectations of collaboration between our organisations is high.”
